

Frank Hawks Unimpressed With Record

New Mark Lowers Lindbergh's Speed By Two Hours and Twenty Minutes.

THROTTLE NOT OPENED

Says Wind At Back Aids
Speed Between Albuquerque and Wichita.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Not satisfied with establishing a new trans-continental flight record of 12 hours, 25 minutes and 3 seconds, Captain Frank M. Hawks today announced he would soon attempt to cross the country in "real fast time." The new record is the fastest time ever made by man for such a distance.

Hawks, who arrived here last evening after his record-breaking dash from Los Angeles, which lowered the record of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh by more than two hours and 20 minutes, said that after the National Air Races when better atmospheric conditions and more helpful winds may be possible, he would make a new assault on his own record. He said he was confident he could lower his record spurt from coast to coast.

"At no time during the flight yesterday was my engine opened wide," the air racer said. "Flying conditions were almost perfect. I first had the moon to fly by on leaving Los Angeles and then the sun. I struck a little rain near St. Louis but soon came into clear weather again."

"I made the fastest time in my trip between Albuquerque and Wichita," he said. "A tail wind of 34 miles an hour followed me out of Albuquerque and stayed with me for 300 miles or more. I moved along at 250 miles an hour and could have increased that speed."

His "Whitwind-powered Traveler" plane never dropped below a speed of 200 miles an hour he said. Hawks left Los Angeles at 6:27 A. M. and arrived at his goal here at 6:41:30 P. M. He halted for fuel at Albuquerque, Wichita and Indianapolis, stopping for about 15 minutes each time.

At times Hawks flew at more than 10,000 feet. Hawks said a great deal of his success was based on the splendid service and good time made by crews who refueled his ship at the three stops. He said they were men specially trained for the work and that they handled their jobs to perfection.

As soon as his plane is overhauled he will fly to Chicago to participate in the National Air Races the latter part of this month.

Captain Hawks began his persistent attacks on the transcontinental records in 1929. Twice before he held the west to east record, losing it last Easter Sunday when Colonel Lindbergh made his record flight with Mrs. Lindbergh as his passenger.

Only a week ago he took off from New York and flew west in 14 hours, 50 minutes and 53 seconds, beating the record for the westward flight made by Captain Roscoe Turner by more than four hours. He now holds both the eastward and westward records.

GROSS NEGLIGENCE DUTY IS CHARGED

Gail Heffner, Salt Creek-Twp.
Files Suit For Divorce
From Helen Heffner.

Gross neglect of duty is charged by Gail Heffner of Salt Creek-Twp., who filed petition for divorce in common pleas court Thursday from Helen M. Heffner of Rossco.

The couple was married on November 17, 1928 and no living children were born of the marriage.

The plaintiff charges that on August 7, 1930 the defendant took her belongings and went to her father's home in Rossco with the intention of never coming back, and previous to this time had allowed her time reading trashy literature, and when told that it would become morbid and that she never performed her duties as a housewife.

The plaintiff therefore asks a divorce and other relief.

Adkins and Adkins are his attorneys.

18-YEAR-OLD AFTER RECORD

Jersey City Boy Hopes To Lower Record Held by Late
Frank Goldsberry.

WESTFIELD AIRPORT, N. J., Aug. 14.—Edward Schneider, 18-year-old Jersey City boy hopped off from here for Los Angeles at 5:55 o'clock (EDT) in his Cessna 110 horse-power cabin monoplane. He hopes to lower the Junior trans-continental record established by the late Frank Goldsberry.

The record east to west is 33 hours and 25 minutes.

Schneider planned to stop for refueling at Wichita and Albuquerque.

A small group watched the boy fly as he left the field in his red and yellow plane, which carries the number N. C. 9092.

Schneider carried 83 gallons of gas but at Wichita he will equip his plane with a gas tank of 200 gallons capacity.

The youthful pilot carried letters from Mayor Walter of New York and Mayor Hague of Jersey City to the Mayor of Los Angeles. From the coast Schneider planned to make a return flight.

Schneider has flown 275 hours, including a nine hour flight from Wichita to New York.

MISSIONARIES FEAR ATTACK OF RED MOB

Kanchow Surrounded By Loot-Hungry Communist Troops
—Many Flee City.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The city of Kanchow, second largest community of Kiangsi province, China, is surrounded by loot-hungry Communist troops and evacuation by foreign missionaries may be necessary shortly, a central news dispatch from Hong Kong stated today.

The American Catholic Mission headquarters at Hong Kong has received words of the city's plight from its representatives at Kanchow. The message declared, four American missionaries and several American women attached to the China inland mission stationed at Kanchow are standing by prepared to evacuate at a moment's notice, the dispatch said.

The missionaries at Kanchow are the Reverends Buntings, Blesner, Tweede and Hall. They are believed not in immediate danger, but the large force of Communists encamped about the city probably will make evacuation necessary. Nationalist government troops stationed at Kanchow are too few to deal with the Communist hordes in event of an invasion. The missionaries are preparing to leave the city under escort of retreating Nationalist troops if the Reds gain entry, the message stated.

Chinese Communists have been active for weeks in Hunan and Kiangsi provinces, but until now have operated most extensively in the former district. Their success in reoccupying Changsha, capital of Hunan, after having been driven out once by Nanking forces, is believed to have spurred the Communists to further invasions.

Twelve American missionaries, stationed in various parts of Kiangsi province, have reached Canton after an eleven days' march over the Kiangsi mountains, during which they suffered terrible privations. Excessive rain and heat made the march a terrible ordeal.

The party of twelve includes Bishop Paul Desmond and eight Catholic nuns.

Among the missionaries remaining in Kanchow are Bishop O'Shea and two other priests. Six additional Catholic missionaries are quartered in the vicinity of Kanchow.

Jackson-O'Brine Enter Twenty-fifth Day After Breaking Hunter Mark.

LAMBERT-ST. LOUIS FIELD, Aug. 14.—Swooping as gracefully as a gull the endurance plane "Greater St. Louis", possessor of the world championship record, sailed into its twenty-fifth day of sustained flight at 7:11 this morning. NAPLES HIT BY CYCLONE

City In Midst of Celebration When Wind Comes From Sea; Three Killed.

NAPLES, Italy, Aug. 14.—On the eve of a joyous celebration planned to commemorate its comparative escape from the recent earthquake which raved five provinces of south Italy, the city of Naples today was struck by a violent cyclone which killed at least three persons and injured twenty.

The storm struck without warning. The terrified population, with the earth shiverings of the recent quake still fresh in its memory, took refuge in churches praying for cessation of the howling storm. Shops and booths in the market place were smashed and littered about the streets, and scores of windows broken by the fury of the storm.

The cyclone swept in from the bay of Naples, hurling gigantic waves upon the shore.

Breaks Lindbergh's Record

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Captain Frank M. Hawks, who held a new cross-country flight record today, has figured largely in cutting the time of spanning the United States by air since the first record of 151 days was made in 1912. Since he started his assaults on space and time in 1929 he has made four records.

The records, showing the reduction of the flight from months to less than a day, are as follows:

1912—Bob Fowler, San Francisco to Jacksonville; 151 days.

1919—Belvin Maynard, New York to San Francisco and return; 22 days.

1923—Kelley and Macready, non-stop, Roosevelt Field to San Diego; 26 hours 50 minutes.

1924—Russell Maughan, Mitchell Field to San Diego; 24 hours 48 minutes.

1928—C. B. D. Collyer and Harry Tucker, Roosevelt Field to Los Angeles, 24 hours 51 minutes.

1929—Frank Hawks, non-stop, Los Angeles to Roosevelt Field; 18 hours 21 minutes 59 seconds.

1929—Hawks, same course; 17 hours 38 minutes 16 seconds.

1930—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, Los Angeles to Roosevelt Field; 14 hours 45 minutes 32 seconds.

1930—Hawks, Valley Stream to Los Angeles; 14 hours 50 minutes.

1930—Hawks, Los Angeles to Curtis Field, 12 hours 25 minutes 3 seconds.

Rain Descends As Goldsberry Ends 'Pole-Sit'

City Building Is Scene of Man's Resting Place For 100 Hours.

Hugh Goldsberry, who emulated the famous "Shipwreck Kelly" by occupying a seat on the flag-pole of the city building from Saturday at 7:30 p. m. came down Wednesday night at 11:30 o'clock.

Goldsberry received $100 for his 100 hours in the air and it certainly was worth that sum for between scorching hot days, when the sun beat upon his head, and nights when he became thoroughly chilled by cool breezes, life wasn't just one good time after another, but proved to verge on the painful during the last two days of the stay on the pole, flirting with the birds.

Mr. Goldsberry received applications of liniment at given periods during his sista for the sista was such that liniment was demanded to ease certain pains that come after one sits in one position over a given period of time.

Hugh was the object of much attention during his stay on the pole, and when he came down a great crowd was present to see him.

AGAIN CLOSE SO. COURT-ST TO AUTOISTS

Pouring Cement on Job and Sending Traffic Through Kingston Road.

Due to the fact that cement is being poured on both sides of the street on S. Court-st, traffic is now being detoured at Mound-st, by way of the Kingston and Williamsport to Chillicothe.

Plans are rapidly being rushed and improvements are being made on the street with great rapidity.

At the present time a twenty-eight foot stretch on the right hand side of the street has been completed as far as the railroad, and A. W. Burns' workmen are now pouring an eight foot stretch on the left hand side of the street.

M. F. Haley, excavator has completed his work and has moved his large gasoline shovel from the street and A. F. Riley Contracting Co., is finishing up its work of completing the sewer drops at various intersections. This work will probably be finished by Saturday.

Shortly after M. F. Haley had excavated the street, a large cistern, probably twenty feet deep, and very wide was found at the corner of Walnut and Court-sts. The local fire department took its large pumper down to the spot on Wednesday evening and pumped all the water that was standing in the tank, which measured over ten feet. This was the first time the pumper had an opportunity to demonstrate itself and Chief Talmer Wise was more than pleased with its performance.

As a matter of fact when the pressure was turned on, there was a large crowd of people standing around and two members of the fire department were unable to take care of the hose and all of the spectators were given a free shower bath.

Almost all the curbing with the exception of a small stretch from in front of the J. M. Kirwin residence to the railroad has been laid, and cement is being poured as soon as the curbing has hardened sufficiently.

Every day the A. W. Burns workmen always have a large audience watching them work, as almost all work is done by machinery. The cement is poured by a large cement mixer, which pours 150 or 200 feet every day, the cement is leveled off by a machine, and the street is rolled before the cement is poured.

When the full stretch of cement has been poured and is sufficiently dry and hardened enough for brick to be laid, which will probably be started the first of next week it is expected that traffic will be allowed to pass over the side of the street while the other portion is being bricked.

When completed the small stretch will make a complete stretch of paved road from Sandusky to Chillicothe.

STORE OWNER THEFT VICTIM

John Cochenour Tells of Hold-up At Crownour Mill; Reports $100 Gone.

A holdup and theft of more than $100 came to light Thursday when it was learned John Cochenour, proprietor of a general store at the Crownour Mill, three miles northeast of Atlanta, was robbed about 11 p. m. Tuesday.

Cochenour talked to a number of persons Wednesday but failed to divulge anything concerning his holdup and robbery. Finally in the evening the details leaked out.

Cochenour had retired late Tuesday when a disreputable Ford touring car drove up in front of the store. Two men got out and calling to Cochenour told him they wanted gasoline. He dressed and went down to wait on them. After receiving the gasoline one of the men handed Cochenour a bill which he changed. The men then decided to get some chewing gum and when Cochenour walked into the store two of them followed him.

They obtained the gum and then displayed a revolver and ordered Cochenour to hold up his hands, and demanded his money. He at first told them he had no money, then told them to take what they could find. They went through his clothes and then through the cash register where it is thought they obtained slightly more than $100.

A third man in the car then called the two and the party departed.

Mrs. William Koch and family, of Jackson, restored to Athens, Wednesday.

SOUTH MOVES AGAINST RULE OF REP. GROUP

Mann Is Organizing Machine Against White House and National Committee.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—While administration leaders scoffed, and refused to take the movement seriously, Col. Horace H. Mann proceeded grimly today with the organization of a political machine in the South which will be diametrically opposed to the dictates of the White House and the Republican national committee.

The man who led the southern delegates to Kansas City in 1928 to ballot en masse for Herbert Hoover, and then failed to receive the recognition in southern affairs he thought due him, already claims to have laid the foundation for his uprising. With M. O. Dunning and Glenn Skipper, ousted Republican national committeemen from Georgia and Florida, respectively, as his principal lieutenants, Mann has assembled two meetings of disgruntled Dixie Republicans, and plans a third tomorrow in Atlanta. His next step, he says, will be the opening of "an intensive educational campaign," which will include use of the radio, distribution of literature, and even acquisition of newspapers at strategic points.

Great mystery surrounded the last gathering of the Mann clan, said to have been held here yesterday and the day before. First information that bolters from the Hoover organization were seen in town came through the medium of a lengthy statement from Mann saying the meeting had been concluded and announced a "declaration of principles" theret adopted. The colonel refused to say specifically who had met with him other than that it was his executive committee, but he asserted every state in the south but Mississippi was represented.

ST. JOHN'S N.F., Aug. 13.—Pushing its great bulk out to sea on its return voyage to England from Montreal, the giant British dirigible R-100 swept through the straits of Belle Isle, separating Newfoundland from Labrador, today.

BYRD AND THE POLAR EXPEDITIONS

CHAPTER XX

Amazing Numbers Offered to Accompany the Expedition and Called at Byrd's Headquarters for Approval

THOSE who aided the Richard E. Byrd Antarctic Expedition by contributing to its finances would have made a considerable army if they could have been marshaled into a column of squads such as the Commander had drilled back in the days when he directed the training of the Rhode Island Naval Reserve. Those who stood clamorously ready to aid the expedition by contributing their services would have made almost two armies. They came by the thousands.

A fairly accurate check, made a little over a month before Byrd left his headquarters in New York City indicated that not less than fifteen thousand men and women, young, old, middle-aged and in at least a couple of instances octogenarians, had offered themselves for the journey into the Far South. Since the expedition was only a little more than twelve months in the making this meant that applicants came along at the rate of thirty a day. Making allowances for Sundays, holidays and such they must have in reality come on a work-day average nearly half as large again.

It was extraordinarily heterogeneous procession, the one that fi-

Sign-posts

IMAGINE YOURSELF on an unfamiliar highway at night in the country. You want to go to Allison. You come to a forked road. No signs! Which way? You turn left and come to a cross-road. No signs. You turn right. You come to a town. It proves to be Liberty. You go back to the fork and turn left. A mile or so farther on you come to another cross-road. A sign pointing right says "Allison three miles."

But for that sign post you might have traveled miles—spent hours, and come short of your destination.

Imagine yourself in need of hosiery, clothing, breakfast foods or anything else, and this newspaper without advertisements!

Advertisements are sign-posts. They are information. They save you from wandering aimlessly from store to store. They keep you advised of the newest products; of the latest values. They save you time, and put greater buying power in your dollars. They assure you of quality and service in merchandise for only honest goods honestly advertised can stand the spotlight of publicity.

Read the advertisements.

with the applicant standing across the desk, that it was said. The same sort of speeches were made over telephone. They were made, even, on the street, for more than one dogged candidate refused to take the first "No!" and waylaid the Commander or one of his aides at the most strategic corner.

The men whom Byrd finally chose for his staff were, one and all, picked men. Picked for their jobs. Picked for their physical perfection. No man with a flaw had a chance to break into the select crew, nor half a chance. Nor did it matter if the flaw was hidden, for Byrd did not rely upon his own ability to hunt it out. He did set himself up as a judge of such characteristics as personality, temperament and temper, sociability and such. But when it came to deciding whether the candidate had the proper reflexes, good eyesight, no diseases, he called in the best doctors he could find. That meant the best in the country, for without going outside the lists of those who had volunteered to join his party he could have found an examining board second to none.

This being true, it will be readily seen that there was no place among the stokers of his steamship for the ambitious young helper in an ice-cream factory who volunteered to shovel coal. There was even less place for the earnest, but utterly unprepared clerks who marched bravely forward, hunching up their narrow shoulders to make them seem broader and stronger prompted by the spirit of adventure.

How successful the examining board was in weeding out the unfit, is evidenced by the fact that when the expedition left Little America more than a year after it arrived, its numbers were intact, and more than intact—in healthier condition, for the most part, than when the long, wearing labor started. It is, of course, axiomatic that work improves a strong man, where it wears a weaker one down.

Resolute as he was about refusing any save the fittest men, and men only for his expedition, Byrd was equally firm in refusing the myriad luck pieces, charms, emblems, badges, insignia and talismans with which well-meaning admirers would have cumbered him. He could not have helped being happy to find so many people eager to bestow the blessing of good fortune upon his enterprise. But on the other hand he could not have begun to take the array of offerings that were made. In the end, he accepted only two. One was the pin of his fraternity, Kappa Alpha (South); the (South) being necessary because in the Civil War that national college brotherhood had split irrevocably. The other was the blood and fire flag of the Salvation Army, which came into his hands with the blessing of Commander Evangeline

Booth, and with her Godspeed upon his perilous adventure. These two were presented to him shortly before his chief ship, the City of New York, sailed from New York City. All the others, insignia, emblems, dogs, portable houses and what not, he refused, gratefully but firmly.

Shortly after Byrd's selection of a Boy Scout to accompany the party, the selection being the result of a national competition which was won by Wagle Scout Paul Siple, possessor of fifty-nine merit badges, the Antarctic expedition made the gesture which definitely indicated that its long, rigorous travail was begun. The date was August 24, 1928.

Farmall Price Reduced!

We have just received a big piece of power farming news—the McCormick-Deering FARMALL price has been cut $50, and we are at once passing the information on to our customers. The Harvester Company's announcement says:

"We are glad to be able to make a reduction in the FARMALL tractor price at this time because right now the farmer is seriously in need of anything that will help him to cut down his costs of crop production.

"Due to manufacturing economies and anticipated reductions in material costs, we were able to reduce prices on the McCormick-Deering implement lines, effective for the present season.

"Recently, by the same process, we lowered the price on the 10-23 McCormick-Deering tractor $40 and cut the 15-30 tractor price $75.

"Now, to complete our program of reductions, we announce A $50 CUT IN THE PRICE OF THE FARMALL.

"These price reductions, made during recent months, mean a saving to farmers of millions of dollars.

"As the original all-purpose tractor the McCormick-Deering FARMALL has won tremendous popularity. More than 100,000 FARMALLS have been built. Already this tractor has created a real revolution in farming. It is the best investment a farmer can make.

"The new price, $825, f. o. b. Chicago, is the lowest ever placed on the FARMALL.

You have probably seen the FARMALL Tractor at work. If not, we will demonstrate it at any time, on any job. The FARMALL replaces 6 to 10 horses and 2 to 3 men. It plows 7 to 9 acres a day... double disks 18 to 25 acres... drills up to 45 acres... plants 24 to 46 acres... cultivates 33 to 50 acres and, in later cultivations, 53 to 65 acres. It handles EVERY FARM JOB, including row-crop operations. Put the best tractor power to work now—at the new FARMALL price!

If it isn't a McCORMICK-DEERING, it isn't a FARMALL.

Theatres

AT THE CLIFTONA

"Anna Christie," starring Greta Garbo, will open a two day engagement at the Cliftona theatre starting Friday.

This is Garbo's first talking picture, her first oral appearance of any kind since coming to this country in 1926, as an unknown.

Swedish actress. It is particularly anticipated because of general curiosity concerning her voice and accent. It is also Garbo's most dramatic performance and hailed by her associates as her greatest. Garbo's most successful silent pictures were "The Single Standard," "A Woman of Affairs," "Wild Orchids" and her most recent, "The Kiss." In the talking picture version of the famous Eugene O'Neill play, a sordid drama of the New York waterfront, George Marion, who created the father role in the original stage production, again repeats this performance. He also played it for silent films with Blanche Sweet. Charles Bickford, hero of Cecil B. De Mille's "Dynamite," plays the part of the sailor-sweetheart and Marie Dressler has the role of the drunken hag.

AT THE METROPOLITAN

Mary Philbin, who is known as the daintiest star in motion pictures, has scored a triumph in her first talking picture, "After the Fog" which is at the Metropolitan theatre.

Miss Philbin, who won her way to fame through her consummate performance in "Merry-Go-Round" has found a niche in the new scientific medium of talking pictures. Her diction and enunciation were found to be most adaptable for the microphone, and the technicians announced that Miss Philbin's voice registered perfectly.

"After the Fog" offers Miss Philbin a splendid opportunity to display her ability. She runs the gamut of human emotions in her role as Faith, that daughter of an irate father, who believes it a child's duty to uphold family tradition. He endeavors to choose her husband for her but when she must finally decide between real love and duty she acquiesces to the stronger instinct—love.

When you see Mary Philbin in "After the Fog" you will see her for the first time as a free lance star. She was under contract with Universal for a number of years and was considered one of the strongest box office stars on that lot.

AT THE GRAND

There are few persons who have not heard of Rudy Vallee, orchestra leader—crooner of songs—radio idol of millions.

At the Grand theatre opportunity will be afforded to see and hear Rudy in an entirely different role—that of an actor.

He is featured in Radio Pictures' talking, singing, dancing comedy-drama "The Vagabond Lover," his first feature length screen play. Playing opposite him is Sally Blane.

On supporting character and comedy roles are Marie Dressler, Norman Peck, Danny O'Shea, Eddie Nugent, Alan Roscoe, Nella Walker, Malcolm Waite and Charles Sellon. Marshall Neilan directed.

The Connecticut Yankees, Rudy Vallee's noted orchestra, appear in the picture and furnish the complete orchestration. Radio Pictures' famous dancing girls are featured in a number of lavish dance ensembles.

"The Vagabond Lover," written by James Creelman, Jr., parallels in theme the actual life story of Rudy Vallee, who has climbed by his musical ability from a country boy, son of a New England druggist, to the nation's radio, night club and talking picture idol.

PRICE OF FOOD TO BE HIGHER DURING WINTER

This Is Among Problems To Be Handled By Governors Meeting With Hoover

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The Nation's supply of human food is ample for the fall and winter but the city dwellers may pay more for it.

There is enough feed for livestock if properly distributed, but farmers in several states face ruin and relief appears necessary to prevent actual physical suffering.

This was the situation confronting President Hoover and his advisors today as the chief executive prepared for a conference of governors on Thursday and a meeting with heads of national farm organizations a day later.

With prices of food mounting in New York and other cities, the department of agriculture hurried to assure the country that the combined production of human food will be near the average of the last five years.

At the same time, Chairman John Barton of the Red Cross had presented a pessimistic report from state charter heads which indicated relief must be afforded in nine or ten states to prevent privation.

Though Secretary of Agriculture Hyde said on Saturday that every man, woman and child in the country would feel the consequences of the drought, other advisors of the president held the chief damage would be confined to a few states.

Vice-Chairman James C. Stone of the federal farm board said the worst feature of the situation is "psychological."

"Many people have lost hope, when they should not," he said. "If we could have a good soaking rain for 24 hours, the picture would not look so bad."

The farm board is pinning much hope upon the feeding of wheat to replace corn and oats. The entire wheat crop is forecast at 821,000,000 bushels, which is 1.8 per cent above the 1929 crop. With a big surplus of wheat already on hand, diversion of 100,000,000 bushels to feeding livestock would do much to right the agriculture situation, board members say.

The corn crop, however, has been dealt a heavy blow by the drought. The indicated production on August 1, according to the department of agriculture, is 2,212,000,000 bushels, lowest since 1901. A further decrease of 400,000,000 bushels has taken place since Aug. 1, it was estimated.

Crop prospects for the nation, as a whole, however, declined but seven per cent in July, according to estimates.

LEGAL IMPORT OF NARCOTICS MAY BE LESSENED BY HEADS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Further reductions in the legal import of narcotic drugs may be ordered by the public health service which under the Porter Bill has authority to regulate amounts which may be shipped into the United States from abroad, it was learned today.

Surgeon General Hugh S. Cummings and assistant surgeon General W. L. Treadway will hold a conference Tuesday with manufacturers of narcotic drugs and representatives of scientific organizations to discuss the import limitations.

The conference will be chiefly to consider ways and means of determining the adequate volume of imports to meet the legitimate requirements of the medical profession, and science.

While there is some sentiment in certain circles to relax the restriction and permit the import of larger quantities than have been permitted, when shipments were regulated by the Federal Narcotic Control Board, public health officials expressed the opinion there appears to be no necessity for increasing imports and that it may be possible to reduce them.

For the past few years there has been some reduction in the legitimate uses of narcotic drugs, according to officials, who added that there is very little diversion of these products to illegitimate channels.

Experts said there still is considerable smuggling of narcotics into the country and that this makes up the principal supply for the illicit dope peddlers. The creation of the new narcotic bureau in the treasury department, however, has given the federal government a more effective weapon against the dope traffic and it was the opinion that the smuggling of drugs might be reduced.

Several large narcotic rings, of international scope, have been broken up recently by the new bureau and investigations are in progress aimed at other by operatives.

HARRY DAWSON MARRIED JULY 4.

Word has been received by Mrs. W. Edward See of Columbus, Ohio, and Mrs. Emmett F. Morgan of this city of the marriage of their brother, Mr. Harry L. Dawson to Miss Agnes Lawless, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lawless, 3386 Laronia Street, Los Angeles, California, on July 4th. The nuptials were said by Father John O'Donnell at St. Augustine's Church at eight o'clock, after which the couple departed on a motor journey of several days.

Mr. Dawson is a former resident of this city and made his home with Mr. Charles F. Goeller.

SHAW-CHILCOTE REUNION

The second Shaw-Chilcote reunion was held Sunday August 10th, at the old James Shaw homestead near South Bloomington. Although the attendance was not as large as it should have been, probably due to threatening weather early in the day, it was estimated that there were more than one hundred present; and everybody seemed to enjoy the day splendidly.

H. A. Allen who won the heavy eating contest championship last year came in this time as a poor third, the real contest seemed to be between George Stoughton and Joe Barron. It was, however, conceded by every one present that George was the winner with Joe a close second.

It was decided at this gathering to hold the third annual reunion at the same place the second Sunday in August next year and to have some form of entertainment including music.

Officers elected were Frank Collett, president, Circleville; Emory Stevenson, vice-president, Circleville, and George H. Stoughton, secretary, Rockbridge.

Quite a number who attended the reunion took the opportunity of visiting the Ash Cave which is only a few miles distance, before returning home.

It is hoped that every one who is related to James Shaw and Nancy Chilcote will be able to attend this gathering next year.

MEETING OF THE S. W. C. T. U.

The Salem Woman's Christian Temperance Union met at the home of Mrs. Dorah Morris on N. Pickaway-st., on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock.

The meeting was opened by all singing "Some Glad Day" with the president Miss Mary L. Harpster, presiding. Scripture lesson, found in the ninety-eighth psalm, was read by the president, followed by a prayer by Mrs. Anna Rice. After singing the "White Ribbon Rally Song" the secretary read the minutes of the July meeting followed by the roll call. Letters were read from State and County officers. Mrs. Rice reported six honorary members obtained for the year. The topic for the afternoon was "My People Perish for Lack of Knowledge". The following splendid leaflets were read: "The Citizens and Total Abstinence" by Mrs. Bessie Miller, "Alcohol and Athletics" by Mrs. Lillian Hinton, "Mine Yes or No" by Miss Lulu Dodd, "Beer and Wine brought Alcoholism" by Mrs. William Evans, "Are you going to be a Typist?" by Mrs. Louise Morris. The committee composed of Mrs. Louise Morris and Mrs. Owen Morris served delicious sandwiches, potato chips, pickle, and iced tea. The meeting closed with the usual benediction.

The next meeting will be held on the first Wednesday in the month of September at the home of Mrs. Frances Yapple near Meads.

Officers elected were Frank Collett, president, Circleville; Emory Stevenson, vice-president, Circleville, and George H. Stoughton, secretary, Rockbridge.

GROCERS DRUB COCA COLA 9

Errors Feature Contest Which Is Played Until Darkness Falls.

"A Comedy of Errors," and how! This almost describes the recreation ball game between the Grocers and Coca Colas Wednesday evening when the latter went down to defeat under the big score of 15 to 9.

From beginning to end the Bottlers never settled down and made one error after another.

The Grocers took advantage of the pop makers' flightiness and together with several hits each inning ran enough men around the sacks, that at the end of the ninth the Foodmen had scored fifteen.

The Cokes finally came out of their stand-still and together with some mighty fine hits, which occurred pretty often, but not often enough the Bottlers garnered their nine runs in the last four innings.

Bob Maloney played first base and Frank Lynch pitched.

Speculation That Failed

The "Mississippi Bubble" was a speculative scheme, projected by John Law, the future of which occasioned widespread financial distress and bankruptcy in France. As an annex to the bank he had established in 1716, a company was formed which had grants of land in Louisiana and which was expected to realize immense sums by colonization and commerce.

Samoa

All the land on the Samoan Islands is privately owned and there is a law forbidding foreigners to purchase such land. The natives are of a high class and all can read and write. The majority are Christians.

Clock Anniversary

The year 1880 marks the two-hundredth anniversary of the famous Black Forest cuckoo clocks, made originally in 1730 by Franz Kofner.
